TAFE2Uni:
Get a head start to a university degree.
Choosing a TAFE2Uni pathway is a great way to get practical ‘job ready’ skills and later gain entry to a university with credit towards your degree. In fact, a TAFE NSW Certificate IV or Diploma could give you 6-12 months advanced standing towards a university degree.

A TVET course or VET course completed as part of the HSC is the first step in gaining a TAFE qualification and more. Through North Coast TAFE, TAFE2Uni also offers established pathway options into university courses.

To find out more about TAFE2Uni pathways, visit northcoasttafe.edu.au and search TAFE2Uni.

TAFEnow:
Studying the 21st century way.
TAFEnow is the easy, online way to study, taking advantage of online, interactive delivery to make your learning experience not only more convenient but actually more enjoyable.

By becoming an online learner with TAFEnow, you can fit your learning needs into your high school lifestyle. Work at your own pace when you’re most productive. And if you ever get stuck, friendly and expert online teachers and support staff are at the ready to help you with educational or technical problems.

Students have full access to their course online, workbooks, reading resources, assessment requirements and help options, including how to access the library resources or online tutors.

Flexible payment options
100% flexible online delivery
Friendly support
24/7 access

1300 8233 669
TAFEnow.com.au
facebook.com/TAFEnow

When it comes to your future, there’s no time like the present.

TVET online with TAFEnow
Learn at your own pace, anywhere, anytime.
TVET Online
with TAFEnow study options...

At a time, place and pace that suits you.

If you’ve started thinking about working and studying away from high school, then North Coast TAFE’s TVET (TAFE-delivered Vocational Education and Training subjects) can help you get there sooner. Start right now! Plus with TAFEnow’s ultra-convenient online study options, you can get there in your own time and from the comfort of, well, wherever you are...

TVET: Begin your post-school life while you’re still at school.

TVET enables students entering Years 10, 11 and 12 to undertake Vocational Education and Training (VET) courses from TAFE NSW and gain nationally recognised qualifications as part of their HSC.

Think about that – TVET can actually give you practical, real-world knowledge and skills that can be used to land a job or better prepare you for further study – at TAFE or even at university.

With TAFEnow, a greater range of options for high school students is a matter of course.

Via TAFEnow, you have a wide range of options for kickstarting and self-managing your future including:

Board Developed Courses

One of these courses can be included in your ATAR calculation, and all contribute to the HSC. All courses have a compulsory work placement of 35 hours for every 2 units of study.

- Accounting & Finance
- Business
- Information Technology

Board Endorsed Courses

These courses enable students to experience vocational learning in an industry area. Students can articulate into other nationally accredited qualifications after school. Since there’s no HSC exam, Board Endorsed Courses are not included in the ATAR calculation but do contribute to the HSC.

- Animal Studies
- Information and Cultural Services
- Information Technology
- Real Estate
- Visual Arts
- Active Volunteering

Ready for work: Benefits of a TVET Course

A vocational course will give you practical, real-world knowledge and skills that can be used to land a job or better prepare you for further study.

Not only does a TVET subject give you an early and accurate taste of the kind of work you might like to be doing in the future but it can also give you added independence and confidence when you enter the workforce.

“Studying online is very flexible. I can study any time – night or day.”

Sarah, TVET student

School/Work:

School-based apprentices and trainees

Apprenticeships are an excellent way to make your start in the working world while still at school.

Secondary school students are able to undertake a part-time apprenticeship or traineeship as part of their HSC.

Students who complete a school-based traineeship or apprenticeship as part of their HSC often gain a real head start in their career. You can be one of them.

For further information contact your school VET Coordinator or Careers Adviser.